

Youth players and how to call up!

1. Once the youth player profile has been built by the parent/guardian they will be placed into a youth pool and this is where you will draw your player from. Let's get to how we permit a youth player.
2. Go to your team page and go to the scheduled game you wish to permit the player for. I will for example use Gorge div3 for this.

As you can see circled in red they are scheduled to play Riptides in this match and will require some youth call ups. What to do? Well once the player profiles are complete, they in fact will be in the Youth Player pool. To bring up players the coach or manager goes to call up feature highlighted in yellow above and opens the page. Of course, the ICP call up drop downs show first but do not despair scroll down a little further and holy crap six drop downs for youth permits will appear! Yes, an opportunity to permit six if needed.

Here it shows the drop downs to use, and you can see one player has been permitted for this game.

So now let's get to the rest of this process.

1. Once the coach /Manager requests a player a notification goes to player's coach.
2. Once coach approves it goes to youth district for approval.
3. Once they approve it comes back to me (LIWSA) and if I approve notification goes out to all that this permit has been approved. However, if one of us decline the permit stops right there and the permit will not happen.
4. So, after approval what is next? Do you bring the paper work to the field? Nope never again for an LIWSA match. The Player will appear right on your roster with an yts (youth to senior) beside player name. Hold it there is more! The youth player will also have their very own ID card which will show up on your ID card roster and with an yts beside it.
5. Any questions do not hesitate to ask Casey 250-213-8859 text or call. I will answer asap. Now to inform the refs! This should be interesting.
